ALL ARE SATISFIEDBertleman Will Is Construed by Court.*CHILDREN ARE TO SHARE EQUALLY*Supreme Court Adjourns for Term After Completing Lots of Work.

A decision which is satisfactory to all the parties in the suit, is the novel situation in the construction of the Bertleman will made yesterday by the Supreme Court. Both Brooks and Davis and Andrews and Andrade, who were the attorneys in the case, say that the decision is satisfactory.

The court holds that all the children are to share equally, daughters as well as sons, and that the will merely gives the sons the privilege of obtaining all the lands upon condition that they compensate the others for what they would otherwise have in the land. A dissenting opinion is written by Justice Perry. The opinion of the court is written by Chief Justice Frear, and the syllabus follows:

A testator devised certain land, which was subject to a 25-year lease at a rental of $6,000 a year, to his wife, three sons and six daughters, as follows: (1) To his wife a life estate of $2000 or, in case of a change in the lease, one-third the net income, and in case of her death, said $2000 a year or one-third to be equally divided among all his children or surviving children, and to each of the children or surviving children, an equal share of the remaining $4000 or two-thirds of the income. (2) At the expiration of the lease, to his sons or then surviving sons or son, the land, provided such sons or son should then pay $5000 to each of the daughters or surviving daughters, but in case one or two of the sons should be unable to pay such amounts within a year from that time, the other son or sons to have the right to buy the whole by paying (a) to each daughter or surviving daughter $5000, (b) to the shortcoming son or sons each $5000, and that by doing so the sons or son will enter into full possession, and their or his right and title be undisputable, provided they comply with the said conditions, and (c) to the wife a life rent of $2000 a year, to be a charge on the estate. (4) Should none of the sons be able to pay these amounts, then the land to be sold or leased again according to the best interests of the family, the proceeds to be equally divided among the children or their lawful heirs and assigns, after the distributive share of dower is given to the wife. The wife and all the children survived the testator. Held:

The widow took a life estate in one-third the land, subject to be divested upon the performance of the conditions prescribed in the third item, in which case she would thereafter have a fixed sum of $2000 a year, which would be a charge on the land. The children took, subject to the widow's interest, equal estate until the expiration of the lease, with vested remainders in fee, the former merging in the later, so as to make present vested estates in fee, defeasible as to the interests of the daughters and shortcoming son or sons upon the performance of the prescribed conditions by the other son or sons, the sons meanwhile having contingent executory devises as to such interests.

COURT ADJOURNS SINE DIE.

After the Davis squabble yesterday morning the Supreme Court adjourned for the term. Chief Justice Frear announced the satisfaction of the court with the work of the term, saying that 50 per cent more cases had been disposed of during the ten months of the term than in any year before this one. This he attributed to the fact that the members of the court were able to sit, without requiring substitutes by reason of absence or disqualification, and also to the new order by which continuous terms may be held, twice a year. The court will meet again in October.

The Geisha Waist Remains Queen of Shirt Waists

Honolulu ladies who live in perpetual Summer, find the White Shirt Waist an important part of the wardrobe every day in the year. For this climate the Waist should be in point of workmanship a superior garment.

Manufacturers of GEISHA have thoroughly studied the situation and are able to make up sheer materials in a manner which combines beauty, durability and comfort to a remarkable degree.

They sent us a large shipment which arrived by the Alameda and includes some very beautiful and swell styles, made with elbow sleeves, especially suitable for Mid-Summer wear.

All factories commence at this season to work on Woolen Garments for Winter. We therefore advise that you supply your requirements for several months, by selecting new, while assortments and sizes are complete.

makes a fine appearance in such a room, as well as the other sanitary appliances requisite, if they are up-to-date goods, like those shown in the above store.

We wish to call special attention to the World Famed Douglas Closets. They are provided with either high or low tanks as seen in the cut, and are as near noiseless in their operation as closets can be made. They are constructed on the syphon principle, which makes a strong suction that thoroughly washes the bowl. These closets are sold under a written guarantee, and are also guaranteed against leakage, no charge being made for repairs.

These goods are not too expensive for the moderate priced house, and should be inspected by all.

Mr. Bath will call and give figures on work at any time. He also gives all work intrusted to him his personal supervision.
